Request for Proposals Restoration: building out the toolkit

Dear Sir or Madam,

Conservation International Foundation (hereinafter referred to as “Conservation International”), is issuing a Request for Proposals (RFP) for a consulting agreement to build a toolkit comprised of different conservation restoration models. The attached RFP contains all the necessary information for interested Offerors.

With the UN’s announcement of the upcoming Decade of Ecological Restoration, there is an urgent need to translate the restoration commitments of countries and organizations into action. Restoration is often discussed as a conceptual tool that can be used to achieve a variety of outcomes, including carbon sequestration, biodiversity increases, and business developments. However, there is a substantial lack of aggregated, easy to access knowledge of how much different restoration pathways cost and what can be reasonably expected in terms of the benefits each can deliver. Additionally, there is no aggregation of restoration actors at a national level that can be used to identify key partners – an essential step in reducing the cost of restoration and ensuring a coordinated, landscape-level approach. The goal of the following study is to (1) identify all major organizations engaged in restoration work across the target country(s), including their thematic and geographic foci of work, (2) identify a subset of these who have demonstrated successful restoration outcomes across 5 different restoration pathways (natural regeneration, seed dispersal, agroforestry, planted forests, silvopasture), (3) interview these target organizations to understand and quantify the costs and benefits of their restoration work, and (4) map out any specific institutional structures that have impacted the successes and failures of these restoration initiatives.

Consultants should indicate their interest in submitting a proposal for the anticipated agreement by sending an email indicating their intention to Nikola Alexandre at nalexandre@conservation.org by 5PM EST on April 19th, 2019. Interested Offerors can submit their questions to nalexandre@conservation.org or ldhollander@conservation.org.

All offerors are expected to exercise the highest standards of conduct in preparing, submitting and if selected, eventually carrying out the specified work and in accordance with CI’s Code of Ethics.
